

Title: Research Issues in Cybersecurity Domain and Ongoing Projects at LIRIS

Abstract: In this presentation, I will review issues related to specification and access control in a context of data integration and services. Then, I will focus on the research conducted at LIRIS in this context. Work in progress concerns the specification and verification of access control rules. We will also show how to use the reasoning on queries and graphs to approach the inference problem.

